

Horticulture

The Bay of Plenty's horticulture sector is thriving. We grow 80% of New Zealand's kiwifruit and avocado crops right here in the Bay! No matter what your skills, experience or career aspirations are, the sector needs thousands of seasonal and permanent staff to help meet projected growth.

Are you interested in studying Horticulture?

You can study a full range of horticulture qualifications right here in the Bay of Plenty. There's an opportunity to suit anyone with plenty of options of fees-free study as well. Find out more.

Read stories of local businesses in the Agri-tech sector in Tauranga and find out about the types of people the sector needs now and in the future.

Check out the huge number of career paths in the Kiwifruit Industry

Hear from people working in the sector and the huge amount of awesome career opportunities available

Keen to kōrero with someone about opportunities in Horticulture?

Connect with Kiwi Leaders and attend one of their regular Kai and Kōrero sessions to network with others in the industry.

Ara Rau skills and employment hub is a community hub in the heart of Tauranga's CBD to support you with anything career and work-related. Get in touch for one on one career guidance support available every Wednesday.

 info@ararau.co.nz

Keen to attend an event about the horticulture industry?

In March 2022, Priority One is holding an event bringing together secondary school students ready to explore the world of work and local businesses who are ready to welcome talented youth into their workplaces. This event will showcase Construction and infrastructure, Horticulture and related Primary Industries, Technology and IT, and Social and Community Services.

NZKGI run plenty of events throughout the year, you can keep in touch with them via their website.

Attend Canvas Careers expo held every year in July/ August for all your careers and training information.

Connected is an all-of-government service established to help New Zealanders find out about jobs, study, training, or business support available from government agencies. Connected hosts horticulture-related events and webinars for people looking for work in the sector throughout the year. Visit Bay of Plenty Connected to see what's available.

Read the little green and gold book for all you need to know about seasonal work.

The Ministry of Social Development can support jobseekers to find training and employment opportunities in the horticulture sector. Find out more.

Employers

Check out this handy guide on how you can support the next generation of workers in your workplace.

Where to look for Horticulture work

Pick.NZ

Kiwifruit Jobs NZ

Go Hort

Events Calendar

Check out the Events Calendar for all local careers events and information. 